WANY STABLES SECURED

Judge Hancey States That This Year's Speed Program Will Equal That of a State Fair.

The fastest stable of racing horses that has ever been gathered together in Northwest Missouri will compete at the fair next month. Judge Heneey has been untiring in his efforts to bring a bunch of real race horses here and now has assurances of several stables and good prospects for more. "Racing at the fair this year will be as good as at any state fair in the entire West and will bring a good bunch of fast horses as can be found" said Judge Heneey this morning.

Ben Jones of Parnell will bring a stable of six thoroughbreds. Among them is a colt that has already been entered in $300,000 worth of stakes. This colt is to be an entrant in the 1921 world famous Kentucky Derby races and Mr. Jones thinks he has a winner in this animal.

Judge Heneey was at Bethany yesterday and received the assurance of George Neff of that place to enter his entire stable of horses in the races here.

Ed Brown of Bethany will be here with a green trotter, Don Sliva, that is being shipped back to the Grand Circuit and his famous old "war horse," The Ghost.

EXPECT ARMY TRUCKS FOR NODAWAY SOON

Buchanan and Andrew Counties Have Already Received Quota; To Be Used on Federal Roads.

Prospect of three new government trucks for Nodaway county put in [illegible] months ago, and which are to be used in the improvement of the federal roads in this county, took a boost this morning when word was received at the office of the county clerk that Buchanan and Andrew counties had received their quota. The trucks are being sent to St. Joseph and are being distributed from this point to the various counties in this part of the state.

According to the word from Savannah, where the trucks for Andrew county will be kept, the machines compare favorably with the descriptions sent out by the government. They are of the quad drive type, and their heavy military armour makes them ideal for the heavy hauling necessary in road improvement work.

The Nodaway county trucks will be kept here in Maryville and according to the regulations, will be used only for work on the federal roads.

EDUCATION BIG FACTOR IN FIGHT AGAINST REDS

Nation Wide Fight Against Bolshevism Started; To Teach People Principles of U. S. Constitution.

St. Louis, July 15.—Education is Bolshevism's worst enemy and is the army of civilization, which Missouri lawyers will use in waging ruthless warfare on the Red movement, according to James C. Jones, St. Louis attorney and president of the Missouri Bar Association, who has been chosen to direct the fight in this state.

A knowledge of American constitutional rights and ideals, it is believed, will dispel the lure of Bolshevism, and it was with this idea in view that the Committee on Constitutional Campaigns and Celebrations was organized recently in New York.

Virtually every state in the union now has such an organization; Jones is chairman of the Missouri committee. The outward purpose of the committees is to celebrate the anniversary of the birth of the American constitution on September 17, but the real underlying motive is to fight the spread of Bolshevism.

Marion C. Early, president of the St. Louis Bar Association, will have charge of the work in St. Louis.

David Jayne Hill, former ambassador to Germany is the president of the national committee.

The Missouri Bar Association now is organizing a statewide campaign to interpret to the peoples the occasion for, the meaning of and the necessity of preserving the principles of the fundamental law of America.

It is the plan, according to Jones, to hold one or more mass meetings in each county and in each large city, with local bar associations in charge. Where it is impossible for such organizations to obtain satisfactory public speakers from the community, speakers will be sent from Kansas City or St. Louis.

Literature, bearing on the meaning of the constitution and its relation to the lives of the people, is to be circulated throughout the state. The pamphlets are to be printed in several languages and in short monosyllable words in order that a clear understanding may be had by all races of whatever degree of education.

Meetings will be held in churches, school houses, community centers and at factories.

"If our people understood, our own institutions and our own principles, that would in itself be the best answer we could make to the spread of Bolshevism," said Jones. "And it is along that line that our campaign is to be conducted."

Miss Mildred Broils of Clearmont, has been selected as teacher at the Clyde school next year at a salary of $60 a month.

90 DAYS FOR PETITIONS ON WORKMAN'S REFERENDUM

Extra Session of Legislature Asks for Close Scrutiny of the Petitions; Statement by McAllister.

Jefferson City, July 15.—Petitions invoking the referendum on the workmen's compensation act passed by the regular session of the General Assembly will have to be filed within 90 days after sine die adjournment of that body. This limit will expire August 8.

Whether there will be a contest over the filing of the petitions has not yet developed. The extra session of the legislature adopted a resolution asking Attorney-General McAllister and Secretary of State Sullivan to scrutinize closely the petitions when filed.

Secretary Sullivan says that beyond the form of the petition he has no authority to go back of the signatures.

Attorney-General McAllister says there is no doubt of the fact that the method of securing signatures by paying so much per signature is grossly abusive of the spirit of the initiative and referendum law and the practice should be broken up.

Just how it can be done neither official is able at this time to indicate.

It is not a practice for both the "drys" and the suffragists both have followed it in the past and set the figure for securing names at 10 cents per signature.

Secretary Sullivan says he will be guided in handling the petitions by the advice of the Attorney-General who is his legal adviser in all official matters.

Attorney-General McAllister intimates he will issue a statement on the matter in a few days outlining what procedure will be followed in scrutinizing the petitions intended to tie up the compensation act until after the general election in 1920.

Farm Use for War Explosives.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 15.—The vast quantities of explosives manufactured for war uses, and now stored in the United States and in American warehouses abroad, can be and should be put to profitable and practical uses along the paths of peace, so says Jewell Mayes of the Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

If made up in adaptable, convenient strength similar to dynamite the wartime explosives now on hand can be used for blowing up stumps on the more than two million acres of Missouri's cut-over lands, as well as on many hundreds of thousands of acres of fertile stump land found every where in all the counties of this state. Explosives are also helpful in draining hardpan soils, in planting orchards, and other agricultural work, including road building.

The elimination of stumps from farm lands is essential to better agriculture, especially in southeastern, southwestern, and central Missouri. The time is ripe for action to secure the federal government's consideration of this question.

REVIEW OF AMERICA'S PART IN THE WORLD WAR.

Washington, D. C.—America's part in winning the world war is graphically told in a "Statistical Summary of the War With Germany," just from the press and written by Col. Leonard F. Ayres, chief of the Statistics Branch of the General Staff. The summary is a printed document of 150 pages and is a complete statistical review of America's participation in the greatest war in history. It is regarded as a powerful argument for the League of Nations as a deterrent of future conflicts.

The war's cost to America was $21,850,000,000, or approximately $1,000,000 an hour. Of the total, $13,900,000,000 went for army expenses.

The country's total armed force when the armistice was signed was 4,800,000 men, of whom four million were in the army, the remainder being in the navy, marine corps and other branches.

The number of men sent overseas was 2,086,000, of whom 1,390,000 were actually engaged at the front. The number of Americans engaged in the Meuse-Argonne battle, the greatest operation in which American troops participated, was 1,200,000. American casualties in this engagement number 120,000 officers and men. Battle deaths approximated 50,000, wounded, 236,000, and deaths from disease, 56,991 up to April 30, 1919.

Some notable achivements were accomplished by those charged with the duty of waging the war. Not the least of these was the fact that, despite the U-boat peril, 306,000 men were transported overseas in one month. The speed with which the army is being returned is indicated by the fact that 333,000 were brought home in one month.

Supplies shipped from the United States to France amounted to 7,500,000 tons in the nineteen months of this country's participation in the war.

Results of Selective Draft.

The number of men registered for military service under the Selective Service Act was 24,234,021, of whom 2,810,296 were inducted into service The largest number inducted in any month was 400,000.

While the British sent more men to France during the first year of their participation in the war than the United States did it took them three years to attain a strength of two million men in France, while the United States accomplished this in one-half that time.

Approximately 200,000 commissioned officers were required for the army, the report shows, and of these, less than 9,000 were in the Federal service at the war's outbreak. Of these, 5791 regulars and the remainder National Guard officers. The remainder had to come from civil life and most of them were trained at the Officers' Training Camps. Of every six officers in the army, one had had previous training in the regular army, National Guard, or in the ranks; three received their training at the Officers' Training Camps, and the other two came direct from civil life with little or no military training.

The average soldier who went to France had six months of training at home and two months of intensive training after arriving in France.

REJOICES DAUGHTER CAN RESUME STUDIES

"Everything my little 12-year-old girl ate distressed her; even a glass of water would cause her to belch gas and she was unable to go to school for nearly a year. A Good Home Is A Good Investment

A recent issue of the Missouri Ruralist had pictures of a number of prize Missouri farm homes. Some of them were as pretentious as any city residence—including hot and cold water, baths, furnace heat and electric lights. This kind of farm home is becoming very common in Missouri and it shows, that Missouri folks can not only afford such homes, but that they consider that kind of a home the best investment they can make.

Nothing adds to the value of farm land so much as good improvements, and no building on the farm adds so much to it as the house. A good farm house will add more to the cash value of the farm than it costs, and not only that, but it makes life worth living.

In the consideration of building farm improvements, John F. Case, editor of the Ruralist, in an article entitled "Prices Will Not Be Lower," says that he intends to go right ahead with improvements on his farm because he is convinced that prices are not coming down for a long time—not at least until the prices of farm products have been reduced, which make it harder for the farmer to buy than it is now.

He quotes from an authoritive statement as follows: "The average cost of the equipment the farmer buys has gone up 80 per cent but the average selling price of farm produce has advanced 125 per cent. The farmer's market and the price he gets for his product depends on the ability of labor to buy them."

Mr. Case says: "I am not sure that we farmers are eager to see the wages of labor come down. Take it all in all the American laborer is living on a higher plane than ever before and so is the American farmer * * * * The fact remains that the present high price of manufactured articles and food is the inevitable result of years of destruction instead of production. And so I say, buy now."

Mr. Case only repeats what every investigator in the country has found out—that the price of everything has gone up because there is not enough of it to go around, and the price of lumber has not gone up in comparison with other things, any more than it naturally should. In fact, lumber prices have not gone up as much as farm produce, or many other things. Taking these facts into consideration it will be seen that the average farmer CAN BETTER AFFARD A GOOD HOME NOW THAN HE EVER COULD. And there never was a time when that home would represent as much in value to his farm land. In other words

A GOOD HOME IS REALLY WORTH MORE THAN IT COSTS.

Building a home is something we don't do many times in a lifetime. For that reason it should be done as near right and as near to our idea of a real home as possible. If you are going to build within the next year, you should begin to plan so that you will KNOW YOU ARE RIGHT—THEN GO THEAD.

Our building service is lots of help, because we can show you plans and specifications of homes that have been built—show you how your particular ideas or requirements can be worked out in the plans, give you other people's ideas and estimates of their cost in building. In fact, we are here to give you the best service possible and all of the help you want.

OFFERS FARM AS MODEL FOR SOLDIER INSTRUCTION

Lieut. Comm. Denny, U. S. N., Donates Farm in Wright County for Two Years.

Jefferson City, July 15.—Lieut. Commander A. D. Denny of the United States Navy in a letter to Governor Gardner received here, has offered free of rent for a period of two years a farm of eighty acres for the purpose of the state establishing a model farm for instruction of discharged soldiers and sailors in farm work.

The farm is located near Mountain Grove in Wright County and Denny says his duty in the government service prevents him from utilizing it himself. He is willing, he says, to turn it over free in order to help along the movement to induce the demobilized fighters to get back to the land.

Denny says that in his judgment all of the discharged soldiers and sailors are willing to work and work hard and many of them are keen to receive instructions in farming.

In his letter Denny says:

"For the soldiers and sailors now being demobilized the state could assist in procuring small farms and could conduct schooling to direct the accumulated war like energies of these men along constructive lines for the bettermen of the state and to the advantage of the man."

The governor will turn the matter over to the soldier betterment department.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT OCT. 8

McAllister Believes Enactments of Recent General Assembly Will Be Effective 90 Days After Adjournment.

Jefferson City, July 15.—Attorney General McAllister is unofficially of the opinion that the enactments of the recent extra session of the General Assembly will become effective 90 days after the final adjournment.

All of the laws passed by the regular sessions except those that had emergency clauses do not go into effect until November 1 at which time the revised laws are operative.

"The extra session was not a part of the revising session and all intents and purposes was simply an ordinary session of the Assemby," McAllister says.

"Without having looked into the matter I feel sure that the laws passed by the extra session will take effect 90 days after the extrat session adjourned.

This view will make the capital punishment restoration effective on October 8.

Attorney General McAllister is also unofficially of opinion that any capital crimes committed during the interim of 90 days after the adjournment of the extra session would be punishable by infliction of the extreme penalty after Oct. 8.

There is a question, however, among lawyers as to whether the Meramex Trust Company robbers in St. Louis could be hung as their crime was committeed before the passage of the act of restoring capital punishment.

New Record in Road Work.

During the month of June the Secretary of Agriculture approved project statements of 133 Federal-aid projects, involving the improvement of 1,390.29 miles of road, at a total estimated cost of $24,220,808.90, and on which Federal aid in the amount of $11,034,289.12 was requested. This represents the largest number of project statements approved, the largest estimate of cost, and the largest amount of Federal aid requested during any month since the passage of the Federal-aid road act.

During the month there were executed by the Secretary and the State highway departments 60 project agreements, involving the improvement of 507.37 miles of road, at a total estimated cost of $7,566,089.32, and on which $3,404,269.18 Federal aid was requested and set aside in the Treasury. In addition, 40 project agreements previously executed were amended during the month.

Up to and including June 30, 1919, project statements for a total of 1,319 projects had been approved. The 1,319 projects involve 12,790.37 miles of road, a total estimated cost of $133,833,300.67, and a total of $54,763,957.81 Federal aid. On the same date a total of 677 project agreements had been executed, involving 5,776.39 miles of road, a total estimated cost of $56,367,334.94, and a total of $23,892,740.97 Federal aid.

EQUAL PAY AND EQUAL WORK FOR WOMEN SLOGAN.

First Session of National Fed. of Business and Professional Women Opens at St. Louis Toady.

St. Louis, July 15.—Equal pay and equal work for women.

That is to be the chief slogan of the first annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional women, the sessions of which will open here today. According to Miss Lena M. Phillips, president of the federation and herself a leading New York attorney, this slogan will be vividly impressed upon the delegates. There are 300 women expected to attend the convention.

"The time when a woman could claim a woman's privilege and the pay of a man is past," says Miss Phillips.

"We shall impress the fact that if a woman is to receive equal pay she must do equal work at all times, and let me tell you that every woman should insist upon this. It is the one way in which women will gain their rightful place in the business and professional world. Too many women have entered business with the idea they should be treated as women. That is wrong. They should be treated on an equal plane with the men who surround them. When once every woman arrives at that state of mind, the condition of women everywhere will be greatly improved."

QUICK RETORT LANDS JOB.

Topeka, Kan., July 14.—The Santa Fe railroad has been advertising for brakemen in the eastern newspapers. A big, tall, raw-boned, homely chap, looking like a prize fighter, called on General Manager Fred C. Fox, who does all the hiring, and applied for a job. "I see you want some brakemen, and I would like a job," said the man.

"We don't need any," said Mr. Fox, after sizing up the man.

"Then take that ad out of the eastern papers and quit fooling us fellows," demanded the man. "I came all the way from Philadelphia to get a job in reply to your ad."

"Well, we do need some brakemen," said Mr. Fox, "but we don't need you."

"Why?" queried the man.

"I don't like your looks."

"So you hire a man on his looks?"

"Yes."

"Who in hell hired you?" demanded the job seeker.

"You'll do," said Mr. Fox. "Report this afternoon.'

A FISHING THEY HAVE GONE.

A party of four left Maryville Sunday for Gallatin where they will spend a week preying upon the inhabitants of Grand River. The anglers who are whiling away their time on the banks of the aforementioned stream and leading the simple life are Bruce Montgomery, J. A. Spiers, Tom Peniston, and Aaron Souers. If the sportsmen send back glowing reports of their fisherman's luck, others may be enticed to join them before the week's end.

Miss Juno Jones and Miss Theresa Carstens went to St. Joseph this morning to spend the day.

What It Cost 19 Families To Use Electric Stoves

Here are the bills of nineteen users of electric ranges for the month of June. Some of these users did a lot of canning during the month, some of them have large families and use a great deal more current than others. These figures were taken from our files and we can explain the conditions that cause the difference in them if you will call at the office.

The nineteen bills for June were as follows.

2	4.35
3	4.32
4	4.52
5	4.23
7	2.02
9	2.60
10	3.80
11	3.24
12	8.74
13	5.35
14	3.47
15	3.20
16	7.52
17	7.86
18	5.47
19	1.80
Total	$84.11
Average	$ 4.43

The largest user of electric current for cooking paid $8.74 for the month. The smallest bill was $1.80. The average amount paid for current was $4.43.

If an average family used the average amount of current at a cost of $4.43 per month, the year around the total fuel bill for cooking would amount to $53.16, and the small or medium sized families would use considerable less than that. How many average families will use less than $50 worth of any kind of fuel for cooking? And not only that, but how long will an ordinary stove last? An electric range is a lifetime stove. The parts that are liable to wear out are easily replaced at small cost. The original cost of the stove is very little more than any range, and the convenience and efficiency of electric cooking make it the most economical way.

NEW HOG RECORD TOP $22.45.

Kansas City Stock Yards, July 14.—Hog prices were higher again today, making a new high record position with top $22.45, and bulk of sales $22 to $22.45. Beef steers were 10 to 15 cents higher and other cattle steady. Sheep were strong to 50 cents higher. The increasing strength in all divisions of the market reflects an increasing outlet for meat and the improved tone in cattle is regarded as having lasting qualities.

Today's Receipts.

Today 16,000 cattle arrived, more than double the supply a week ago, though 9,000 less than a year ago. The bulk of the offerings today come from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. There were no far Western cattle except a few from Idaho. Hog receipts 13,000 were 1,000 larger than a week ago and 3,000 larger than a year ago. Sheep arrivals were 5,000 or 1,000 more than a week ago and 300 less than a year ago.

Beef Cattle.

More beef cattle were here than on any Monday for some time past, and the bulk of the offerings were straight grass fat steers from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. They sold at $10.50 to $13.75. Some of the caked and wintered grassers sold at $13.50 to $14.50. Native fed steers sold up to $15.50, and yearlings up to $15.40. Butcher cattle were no more than steady, and sold less readily than steers. Cows are quoted at $5.50 to $12.50, heifers $7.50 to $14.25 and mixed yearlings up to $15.50. Top veals sold at $17 to $17.25.

Stockers and Feeders.

Receipts of stockers and feeders were larger than for some time past and trade was fairly active at steady prices. Feeders sold at $9 to $12.50 and stockers $8.50 to $11.50.

Hogs.

Hog prices keep on climbing, and today a new high position was reached at $22.45 for top and bulk $22 to $22.40. Since the market has passed the $22 point the advance has slowed down considerably, but packers have not been able to break the rising tendency. Receipts remain fairly liberal for this season of the year and the quality of the offerings is holding up better than expected.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lambs were quoted 25 cents higher today and sheep up 25 to 50 cents, with demand active. Ewes are quoted at $6.50 to $8, Wethers $8.50 to $11.50 and lambs $14.50 to $17.25. Practically all the offerings were native grades. Feeders are awaiting receipts of Western lambs before they begin making midsummer purchases.

Horses and Mules.

A stronger undertone prevails in horses and mules. Receipts were light. There is some demand for rugged medium priced work chunks. Also Southerners. The few mules received were sold to arrive at the best prices of the season.

MOCKS STUTTERER AND NOW HE'S GOT HABIT

New York, July 14.—Michael Bakun, of Brooklyn, probably will stutter for some time—all because he mocked Daniel Mucerine, one of his fellow-workers, who has stuttered since birth. Bakun mocked Mucerine and the latter swung one on his jaw which broke it. When Hakun appeared in court he stuttered so badly he could hardly talk.

"Serves you right," said Magistrate Frothingham. "Defendant dismissed."

KENTUCKY DERBY ENTRANT AT FAIR

WANY STABLES SECURED

Judge Hanecy States That This Year's Speed Program Will Equal That of a State Fair.

The fastest stable of racing horses that has ever been gathered together in Northwest Missouri will compete at the fair next month. Judge Heneey has been untiring in his efforts to bring a bunch of real race horses here and now has assurances of several stables and good prospects for more. "Racing at the fair this year will be as good as at any state fair in the entire West and will bring a good bunch of fast horses as can be found" said Judge Heneey this morning.

Ben Jones of Parnell will bring a stable of six thoroughbreds. Among them is a colt that has already been entered in $300,000 worth of stakes. This colt is to be an entrant in the 1921 world famous Kentucky Derby races and Mr. Jones thinks he has a winner in this animal.

Judge Heneey was at Bethany yesterday and received the assurance of George Neff of that place to enter his entire stable of horses in the races here.

Ed Brown of Bethany will be here with a green trotter, Don Sliva, that is being shipped back to the Grand Circuit and his famous old "war horse," The Ghost.

J. Ellison of Savannah will be here with six head of show and harness horses and R. G. Mundy of Mound City will enter six head of show horses.

Crit Richards of Worth and Phil Sales of Gentry will have their stable of running horses here.

The show ring at night will be of a high class order. The Midway shows will be the best ever seen at the county fair here.

Mr. Harve Bainum, secretary of the Fair Association, left Maryville this morning on an advertising trip that will take in Ravenwood, Parnell, Sheridan, Isodore, Grant City, Allendale, Denver, Worth, Gentry, Albany, Darlington, Stanberry, Clyde, and Conception. Mr. Bainum has with him a line of the finest lithograph posters that can be found on the market, making sure that the local fair will be the most attractively advertised county fair in this part of the country.

EXPECT ARMY TRUCKS FOR NODAWAY SOON

Buchanan and Andrew Counties Have Already Received Quota; To Be Used on Federal Roads.

Prospect of three new government truck[illegible] Nodaway county put in [illegible] months ago, and which are to be used in the improvement of the federal road in this county, took a boost this morning when word was received at the office of the county clerk that Buchanan and Andrew counties had received their quota. The trucks are being sent to St. Joseph and are being distributed from this point to the various counties in this part of the state.

According to the word from Savannah, where the trucks for Andrew county will be kept, the machines compare favorably with the descriptions sent out by the government. They are of the quad drive type, and their heavy military armour makes them ideal for the heavy hauling necessary in road improvement work.

The Nodaway county trucks will be kept here in Maryville and according to the regulations, will be used only for work on the federal roads.

EDUCATION BIG FACTOR IN FIGHT AGAINST REDS

Nation Wide Fight Against Bolshevism Started; To Teach People Principles of U. S. Constitution.

St. Louis, July 15.—Education is Bolshevism's worst enemy and is the army of civilization, which Missouri lawyers will use in waging ruthless warfare on the Red movement, according to James C. Jones, St. Louis attorney and president of the Missouri Bar Association, who has been chosen to direct the fight in this state.

A knowledge of American constitutional rights and ideals, it is believed, will dispel the lure of Bolshevism, and it was with this idea in view that the Committee on Constitutional Campaigns and Celebrations was organized recently in New York.

Virtually every state in the union now has such an organization; Jones is chairman of the Missouri committee. The outward purpose of the committees is to celebrate the anniversary of the birth of the American constitution on September 17, but the real underlying motive is to fight the spread of Bolshevism.

Marion C. Early, president of the St. Louis Bar Association, will have charge of the work in St. Louis.

David Jayne Hill, former ambassador to Germany is the president of the national committee.

The Missouri Bar Association now is organizing a statewide campaign to interpret to the peoples the occasion for, the meaning of and the necessity of preserving the principles of the fundamental law of America.

It is the plan, according to Jones, to hold one or more mass meetings in each county and in each large city, with local bar associations in charge. Where it is impossible for such organizations to obtain satisfactory public speakers from the community, speakers will be sent from Kansas City or St. Louis.

Literature, bearing on the meaning of the constitution and its relation to the lives of the people, is to be circulated throughout the state. The pamphlets are to be printed in several languages and in short monosyllable words in order that a clear understanding may be had by all races of whatever degree of education.

Meetings will be held in churches, school houses, community centers and at factories.

"If our people understood, our own institutions and our own principles, that would in itself be the best answer we could make to the spread of Bolshevism," said Jones. "And it is along that line that our campaign is to be conducted."

Miss Mildred Broils of Clearmont, has been selected as teacher at the Clyde school next year at a salary of $60 a month.

R. B. Gex of Hughes township informed us last Saturday that on the previous evening three cattle were killed by lightning at a spot on his place some two hundred yards distant from his house. The same stroke badly stunned James M. Palmer, who was plowing in a field a short distance from the place where the cattle were killed. During a storm about a week previous three sheep were killed on the same spot; and year before last a cow and a horse were killed at this same point by lightning at two different storms.

The Democrat is truly the people's favorite paper, as our subscription list proves. Our circulation is crawling up fast to 2,000 copies each week. Democrats, Republicans and Greenbackers all take it because it gives the news.

Extra Session of Legislature Asks for Close Scrutiny of the Petitions; Statement by McAllister.

Jefferson City, July 15.—Petitions invoking the referendum on the workmen's compensation act passed by the regular session of the General Assembly will have to be filed within 90 days after sine die adjournment of that body. This limit will expire August 8.

Whether there will be a contest over the filing of the petitions has not yet developed. The extra session of the legislature adopted a resolution asking Attorney-General McAllister and Secretary of State Sullivan to scrutinize closely the petitions when filed.

Secretary Sullivan says that beyond the form of the petition he has no authority to go back of the signatures.

Attorney-General McAllister says there is no doubt of the fact that the method of securing signatures by paying so much per signature is grossly abusive of the spirit of the initiative and referendum law and the practice should be broken up.

Just how it can be done neither official is able at this time to indicate.

It is not a practice for both the "drys" and the suffragists both have followed it in the past and set the figure for securing names at 10 cents per signature.

Secretary Sullivan says he will be guided in handling the petitions by the advice of the Attorney-General who is his legal adviser in all official matters.

Attorney-General McAllister intimates he will issue a statement on the matter in a few days outlining what procedure will be followed in scrutinizing the petitions intended to tie up the compensation act until after the general election in 1920.

Farm Use for War Explosives.

Jefferson City, Mo., July 15.—The vast quantities of explosives manufactured for war uses, and now stored in the United States and in American warehouses abroad, can be and should be put to profitable and practical uses along the paths of peace, so says Jewell Mayes of the Missouri State Board of Agriculture.

If made up in adaptable, convenient strength similar to dynamite the war-time explosives now on hand can be used for blowing up stumps on the more than two million acres of Missouri's cut-over lands, as well as on many hundreds of thousands of acres of fertile stump land found every where in all the counties of this state. Explosives are also helpful in draining hardpan soils, in planting orchards, and other agricultural work, including road building.

The elimination of stumps from farm lands is essential to better agriculture, especially in southeastern, southwestern, and central Missouri. The time is ripe for action to secure the federal government's consideration of this question.

REVIEW OF AMERICA'S PART IN THE WORLD WAR.

Washington, D. C.—America's part in winning the world war is graphically told in a "Statistical Summary of the War With Germany," just from the press and written by Col. Leonard F. Ayres, chief of the Statistics Branch of the General Staff. The summary is a printed document of 150 pages and is a complete statistical review of America's participation in the greatest war in history. It is regarded as a powerful argument for the League of Nations as a deterrent of future conflicts.

The war's cost to America was $21,850,000,000, or approximately $1,000,000 an hour. Of the total, $13,900,000,000 went for army expenses.

The country's total armed force when the armistice was signed was 4,800,000 men, of whom four million were in the army, the remainder being in the navy, marine corps and other branches.

The number of men sent overseas was 2,086,000, of whom 1,390,000 were actually engaged at the front. The number of Americans engaged in the Meuse-Argonne battle, the greatest operation in which American troops participated, was 1,200,000. American casualties in this engagement number 120,000 officers and men. Battle deaths approximated 50,000, wounded, 236,000, and deaths from disease, 56,991 up to April 30, 1919.

Some notable achivements were accomplished by those charged with the duty of waging the war. Not the least of these was the fact that, despite the U-boat peril, 306,000 men were transported overseas in one month. The speed with which the army is being returned is indicated by the fact that 333,000 were brought home in one month.

Supplies shipped from the United States to France amounted to 7,500,000 tons in the nineteen months of this country's participation in the war.

Results of Selective Draft.

The number of men registered for military service under the Selective Service Act was 24,234,021, of whom 2,810,296 were inducted into service The largest number inducted in any month was 400,000.

While the British sent more men to France during the first year of their participation in the war than the United States did it took them three years to attain a strength of two million men in France, while the United States accomplished this in one-half that time.

Approximately 200,000 commissioned officers were required for the army, the report shows, and of these, less than 9,000 were in the Federal service at the war's outbreak. Of these, 5791 regulars and the remainder National Guard officers. The remainder had to come from civil life and most of them were trained at the Officers' Training Camps. Of every six officers in the army, one had had previous training in the regular army, National Guard, or in the ranks; three received their training at the Officers' Training Camps, and the other two came direct from civil life with little or no military training.

The average soldier who went to France had six months of training at home and two months of intensive training after arriving in France.

A Good Home Is A Good Investment

A recent issue of the Missouri Ruralist had pictures of a number of prize Missouri farm homes. Some of them were as pretentious as any city residence—including hot and cold water, baths, furnace heat and electric lights. This kind of farm home is becoming very common in Missouri and it shows, that Missouri folks can not only afford such homes, but that they consider that kind of a home the best investment they can make.

Nothing adds to the value of farm land so much as good improvements, and no building on the farm adds so much to it as the house. A good farm house will add more to the cash value of the farm than it costs, and not only that, but it makes life worth living.

In the consideration of building farm improvements, John F. Case, editor of the Ruralist, in an article entitled "Prices Will Not Be Lower," says that he intends to go right ahead with improvements on his farm because he is convinced that prices are not coming down for a long time—not at least until the prices of farm products have been reduced, which make it harder for the farmer to buy than it is now.

He quotes from an authoritive statement as follows: "The average cost of the equipment the farmer buys has gone up 80 per cent but the average selling price of farm produce has advanced 125 per cent. The farmer's market and the price he gets for his product depends on the ability of labor to buy them."

Mr. Case says: "I am not sure that we farmers are eager to see the wages of labor come down. Take it all in all the American laborer is living on a higher plane than ever before and so is the American farmer * * * * The fact remains that the present high price of manufactured articles and food is the inevitable result of years of destruction instead of production. And so I say, buy now."

Mr. Case only repeats what every investigator in the country has found out—that the price of everything has gone up because there is not enough of it to go around, and the price of lumber has not gone up in comparison with other things, any more than it naturally should. In fact, lumber prices have not gone up as much as farm produce, or many other things. Taking these facts into consideration it will be seen that the average farmer CAN BETTER AFFARD A GOOD HOME NOW THAN HE EVER COULD. And there never was a time when that home would represent as much in value to his farm land. In other words

A GOOD HOME IS REALLY WORTH MORE THAN IT COSTS.

Building a home is something we don't do many times in a lifetime. For that reason it should be done as near right and as near to our idea of a real home as possible. If you are going to build within the next year, you should begin to plan so that you will KNOW YOU ARE RIGHT—THEN GO THEAD.

Our building service is lots of help, because we can show you plans and specifications of homes that have been built—show you how your particular ideas or requirements can be worked out in the plans, give you other people's ideas and estimates of their cost in building. In fact, we are here to give you the best service possible and all of the help you want.

OFFERS FARM AS MODEL FOR SOLDIER INSTRUCTION

Lieut. Comm. Denny, U. S. N., Donates Farm in Wright County for Two Years.

Jefferson City, July 15.—Lieut. Commander A. D. Denny of the United States Navy in a letter to Governor Gardner received here, has offered free of rent for a period of two years a farm of eighty acres for the purpose of the state establishing a model farm for instruction of discharged soldiers and sailors in farm work.

The farm is located near Mountain Grove in Wright County and Denny says his duty in the government service prevents him from utilizing it himself. He is willing, he says, to turn it over free in order to help along the movement to induce the demobilized fighters to get back to the land.

Denny says that in his judgment all of the discharged soldiers and sailors are willing to work and work hard and many of them are keen to receive instructions in farming.

In his letter Denny says:

"For the soldiers and sailors now being demobilized the state could assist in procuring small farms and could conduct schooling to direct the accumulated war like energies of these men along constructive lines for the bettermen of the state and to the advantage of the man."

The governor will turn the matter over to the soldier betterment department.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT OCT. 8

McAllister Believes Enactments of Recent General Assembly Will Be Effective 90 Days After Adjournment.

Jefferson City, July 15.—Attorney General McAllister is unofficially of the opinion that the enactments of the recent extra session of the General Assembly will become effective 90 days after the final adjournment.

All of the laws passed by the regular sessions except those that had emergency clauses do not go into effect until November 1 at which time the revised laws are operative.

"The extra session was not a part of the revising session and all intents and purposes was simply an ordinary session of the Assemby," McAllister says.

"Without having looked into the matter I feel sure that the laws passed by the extra session will take effect 90 days after the extrat session adjourned.

This view will make the capital punishment restoration effective on October 8.

Attorney General McAllister is also unofficially of opinion that any capital crimes committed during the interim of 90 days after the adjournment of the extra session would be punishable by infliction of the extreme penalty after Oct. 8.

There is a question, however, among lawyers as to whether the Meramex Trust Company robbers in St. Louis could be hung as their crime was committeed before the passage of the act of restoring capital punishment.

New Record in Road Work.

During the month of June the Secretary of Agriculture approved project statements of 133 Federal-aid projects, involving the improvement of 1,390.29 miles of road, at a total estimated cost of $24,220,808.90, and on which Federal aid in the amount of $11,034,289.12 was requested. This represents the largest number of project statements approved, the largest estimate of cost, and the largest amount of Federal aid requested during any month since the passage of the Federal-aid road act.

During the month there were executed by the Secretary and the State highway departments 60 project agreements, involving the improvement of 507.37 miles of road, at a total estimated cost of $7,566,089.32, and on which $3,404,269.18 Federal aid was requested and set aside in the Treasury. In addition, 40 project agreements previously executed were amended during the month.

Up to and including June 30, 1919, project statements for a total of 1,319 projects had been approved. The 1,319 projects involve 12,790.37 miles of road, a total estimated cost of $133,833,300.67, and a total of $54,763,957.81 Federal aid. On the same date a total of 677 project agreements had been executed, involving 5,776.39 miles of road, a total estimated cost of $56,367,334.94, and a total of $23,892,740.97 Federal aid.

EQUAL PAY AND EQUAL WORK FOR WOMEN SLOGAN.

First Session of National Fed. of Business and Professional Women Opens at St. Louis Toady.

St. Louis, July 15.—Equal pay and equal work for women.

That is to be the chief slogan of the first annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional women, the sessions of which will open here today. According to Miss Lena M. Phillips, president of the federation and herself a leading New York attorney, this slogan will be vividly impressed upon the delegates. There are 300 women expected to attend the convention.

"The time when a woman could claim a woman's privilege and the pay of a man is past," says Miss Phillips.

"We shall impress the fact that if a woman is to receive equal pay she must do equal work at all times, and let me tell you that every woman should insist upon this. It is the one way in which women will gain their rightful place in the business and professional world. Too many women have entered business with the idea they should be treated as women. That is wrong. They should be treated on an equal plane with the men who surround them. When once every woman arrives at that state of mind, the condition of women everywhere will be greatly improved."

QUICK RETORT LANDS JOB.

Topeka, Kan., July 14.—The Santa Fe railroad has been advertising for brakemen in the eastern newspapers. A big, tall, raw-boned, homely chap, looking like a prize fighter, called on General Manager Fred C. Fox, who does all the hiring, and applied for a job. "I see you want some brakemen, and I would like a job," said the man.

"We don't need any," said Mr. Fox, after sizing up the man.

"Then take that ad out of the eastern papers and quit fooling us fellows," demanded the man. "I came all the way from Philadelphia to get a job in reply to your ad."

"Well, we do need some brakemen," said Mr. Fox, "but we don't need you."

"Why?" queried the man.

"I don't like your looks."

"So you hire a man on his looks?"

"Yes."

"Who in hell hired you?" demanded the job seeker.

"You'll do," said Mr. Fox. "Report this afternoon."

A FISHING THEY HAVE GONE.

A party of four left Maryville Sunday for Gallatin where they will spend a week preying upon the inhabitants of Grand River. The anglers who are whiling away their time on the banks of the aforementioned stream and leading the simple life are Bruce Montgomery, J. A. Spiers, Tom Peniston, and Aaron Souers. If the sportsmen send back glowing reports of their fisherman's luck, others may be enticed to join them before the week's end.

Miss Lucile Jones and Miss Theresa Carstens went to St. Joseph this morning to spend the day.

What It Cost 19 Families To Use Electric Stoves

Here are the bills of nineteen users of electric ranges for the month of June. Some of these users did a lot of canning during the month, some of them have large families and use a great deal more current than others. These figures were taken from our files and we can explain the conditions that cause the difference in them if you will call at the office.

The nineteen bills for June were as follows.

2	4.35
3	4.32
4	4.52
5	4.23
6	5.96
7	2.02
8	3.64
9	2.60
10	3.80
11	3.24
12	8.74
13	5.35
14	3.47
15	3.20
16	7.52
17	7.86
18	5.47
19	1.80
Total	$84.11
Average	$ 4.43

The largest user of electric current for cooking paid $8.74 for the month. The smallest bill was $1.80. The average amount paid for current was $4.43.

If an average family used the average amount of current at a cost of $4.43 per month, the year around the total fuel bill for cooking would amount to $53.16, and the small or medium sized families would use considerable less than that. How many average families will use less than $50 worth of any kind of fuel for cooking? And not only that, but how long will an ordinary stove last? An electric range is a lifetime stove. The parts that are liable to wear out are easily replaced at small cost. The original cost of the stove is very little more than any range, and the convenience and efficiency of electric cooking make it the most economical way.

More beef cattle were here than on any Monday for some time past, and the bulk of the offerings were straight grass fat steers from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. They sold at $10.50 to $13.75. Some of the caked and wintered grassers sold at $13.50 to $14.50. Native fed steers sold up to $15.50, and yearlings up to $15.40. Butcher cattle were no more than steady, and sold less readily than steers. Cows are quoted at $5.50 to $12.50, heifers $7.50 to $14.25 and mixed yearlings up to $15.50. Top veals sold at $17 to $17.25.

Stockers and Feeders.

Receipts of stockers and feeders were larger than for some time past and trade was fairly active at steady prices. Feeders sold at $9 to $12.50 and stockers $8.50 to $11.50.

Hogs.

Hog prices keep on climbing, and today a new high position was reached at $22.45 for top and bulk $22 to $22.40. Since the market has passed the $22 point the advance has slowed down considerably, but packers have not been able to break the rising tendency. Receipts remain fairly liberal for this season of the year and the quality of the offerings is holding up better than expected.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lambs were quoted 25 cents higher today and sheep up 25 to 50 cents, with demand active. Ewes are quoted at $6.50 to $8, Wethers $8.50 to $11.50 and lambs $14.50 to $17.25. Practically all the offerings were native grades. Feeders are awaiting receipts of Western lambs before they begin making midsummer purchases.

Horses and Mules.

A stronger undertone prevails in horses and mules. Receipts were light. There is some demand for rugged medium priced work chunks. Also Southerners. The few mules received were sold to arrive at the best prices of the season.

MOCKS STUTTERER AND NOW HE'S GOT HABIT

New York, July 14.—Michael Bakun, of Brooklyn, probably will stutter for some time—all because he mocked Daniel Mucerine, one of his fellow-workers, who has stuttered since birth. Bakun mocked Mucerine and the latter swung one on his jaw which broke it. When Hakun appeared in court he stuttered so badly he could hardly talk.

"Serves you right," said Magistrate Frothingham. "Defendant dismissed."

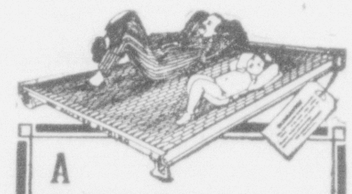
Better Babies and Better Baby Buggies



Living outdoors—plenty of fresh air—those are really the things you see advocated in any better baby campaign.

Getting baby out doors is simply a matter of having a good comfortable buggy to take him out in.

Our new line of carriages is a BETTER line, because it is made better. All reed basket work is made by a loom process that weaves the reeds in perfectly and evenly, and a much longer and better reed is used than in the usual styles of basket.

We have these reed carriages in several styles and in folding gocarts. All frames are reinforced and carriages have safety gear and are easily handled.

OUR REGULAR 10 PER CENT DISCOUNT FOR CASH APPLIES TO THESE CARRIAGES.

We still have on hand a number of porch swings, rockers and settees at very reasonable prices.
